The WHEC2022

The UNESCO Section of Higher Education (ED/E30/HED) is responsible for supporting the Member States in strengthening their higher education systems under the human rights approach, the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, and its pledge to leave no one behind. Within this framework, the Section promotes knowledge development, exchange, and dissemination; provides technical assistance; and develops policy recommendations to contribute to improving higher education capacities at national, regional, and international levels. Among its main upcoming actions, the Section will lead the organisation of the 3rd UNESCO World Higher Education Conference (WHEC2022), which is expected to take place in Barcelona, on May 18-20, 2022 (see Concept Note and Executive Presentation – available in English, French and Spanish, on WHEC 2022).

The WHEC2022 aims at breaking away from the traditional models of higher education and opening doors to new innovative, creative and visionary conceptions that not only serve the current agendas for sustainable development, but also pave the way for future learning communities that overcome barriers, speak to all and are inclusive of all lifelong learners.

The Conference and its preparatory events expect to define and prepare knowledge-based, participatory scenarios to shape a new era of higher education systems (norms, policies, structures, stakeholders) and institutions (universities, specialised entities, think tanks, networks), particularly after the COVID-19 global crisis.

The WHEC2022 will encompass the generation of data, information and knowledge; formulation of updated policy recommendations; identification and dissemination of innovative practices; networking and strengthening of partnerships; broad participation of country stakeholders (highlighting diversity and inclusiveness of higher education stakeholders, within and outside higher education systems, including professors, researchers, administrators, youth, entrepreneurs, policy makers, social leaders, etc.); adoption of commitments and a Higher Education Roadmap that is framed by the 2030 Agenda and looks at the Futures of Education.

TEG’s background

In the framework of the conference’s knowledge production and policy dialogue strategy, the Technical Expert Group (TEG) was created in the first quarter of 2021. Its members have collaborated with UNESCO as individual consultants and helped to prepare 10 background documents on each on the main themes of the conference (see Annex 1). Working versions of these documents, which received feedback from at least 3 reviewers, were completed by the end of September this year and will be discussed during the TEG’s in-person meeting taking place this November 29-30 in Barcelona. The documents will be finalized in the first quarter of 2022 to be delivered on May 18-20, when the WHEC2022 is taking place.

The TEG members and guests are Ka Ho Mok, Sylvia Schmelkes, Dag O. Hessen, Jamil Salmi, Susanna Karakhanyan, David Mills, Kilemi Mwiria, Damtew Tefera, César Guadalupe, Mpine Makoe (see distribution of themes by expert in Annex 2). Within the TEG, there has been a special contribution of the co-chairs of the EGU2030 (see Annex 3), who have been engaged as guests and are preparing an executive summary of the EGU2030 report. In addition, a special focused analysis on the OECD/UNESCO Guidelines on “Quality provision in cross-border higher education” has been elaborated by Achim Hopbach.

The background documents mentioned above seek to articulate updated theory and practice on the corresponding themes as well as provide a reference for policy dialogue and inputs for the HED 2030 Roadmap to be launched during the conference. Each background document has adopted a global perspective and thus considered the five UNESCO regions: Africa (AFR), Arab States (ARB), Asia and the Pacific (APA), Europe and North America (ENA), Latin America and the Caribbean (LAC).
In general, the documents have looked at the last decade (2010 to the present) as a basic timeframe for reviewing literature¹ and conducting focus group discussions, while also providing analysis and policy recommendations for the future of higher education institutions and systems as operating in a global, dynamical context towards year 2030 and beyond².

A relevant activity of the TEG members has been the preparation and conduction of online focus group consultation meetings. Between May and July 2021, each of the members organized 24 meetings, which had participation of a total of 182 experts and key stakeholders from all regions of the world. A consultation report of each theme was prepared by the corresponding expert.

Scope of the TEG background papers

- KEY PROBLEMS (Gaps/Needs: Challenges)
- GOOD THEORY & PRACTICES
- POLICY RECOMMENDATIONS
- Higher Education Institutions & Systems in a Global Context
- 2022 - 2030 Development Agenda, Leave No One Behind & The Futures of Education

Source. TEG Guidelines.

In sum, the TEG has previously held four online meetings:

- Meeting 1 (Wednesday, March 24, 2021, 14:00-16:30 hours, Paris Time): Introduction and exchange of plans.
- Meeting 2 (Wednesday, May 19, 2021, 14:00-16:30 hours, Paris Time): Exchange of progress reports.
- Meeting 3 (Wednesday, July 21, 2021, 14:00-16:30 hours, Paris Time): Exchange of focus group consultation reports
- Meeting 4 (Wednesday, September 8, 2021, 14:00 -16:30 hours, Paris Time): Exchange of background document final versions and next steps.

The TEG members have been supported by focal points. They are all UNESCO specialists who collaborate in technical and operational tasks (see Annex 2). The focal points are Dana Abdurasheva, Phoebe Kirkup, Paz Portales, Victoria Galán, Hassmik Tortian, Peter Wells, Qingling Kong, Francesc Pedró, Harold Mera, Takudzwa Mutize, José Luis Guzmán, Talal El Hourani, José Antonio Quinteiro, Keith Holmes and Emma

² Special features were considered these themes: for theme 1 (to integrate the unique, ongoing impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on societies and education systems at the global level), theme 2 (to ensure synergies with the Global Independent Expert Group on the Universities and the 2030 Agenda (EGU 2030), developed with support of SDG Norway) and theme 10 (to adopt the approach of the Futures of Education initiative).
Sabzaliyeva⁵. These focal points are leading or technical staff from UNESCO’s HED Section, IESALC, UIS and The Futures of Education initiative.

Annexes

Annex 1. WHEC2022 Themes and Subthemes

1. Impact of COVID-19 on Higher Education.
   1.1. Impacts of COVID-19 pandemic on the global economy and society.
   1.2. Disruption effects on higher education (public, private).
   1.3. Response of higher education to COVID-19 crisis.
   1.4. Moving ahead to the “new normality” and facing new emergencies.
   1.5. Innovative solutions and lessons learned from COVID-19 disruption.

2. Higher Education and the SDGs (Sustainable Development Goals).
   2.1. Relevant research agendas for human development.
   2.2. Global citizenship: embedding the 17 SDGs in teaching, learning, research.
   2.3. SDG4: progress, gaps, and options (role of higher education to improve the whole education system and the teaching profession).
   2.4. Capacity building for research in higher education institutions and other actors.
   2.5. Third mission of higher education institutions: community services and local practices adopting global perspectives.

3. Inclusion in Higher Education.
   3.1. Leaving no one behind: enabling vulnerable groups to enter, transit and complete higher education.
   3.2. Equity policies and equal distribution of opportunities; right to higher education.
   3.3. Financial support to youth from low-income families (including scholarships).
   3.4. Enhancing gender equality in higher education.
   3.5. The value of ethnic diversity and multiculturality in higher education.
   3.6. Universal service and design to ensure inclusion of individuals living with disabilities.
   3.7. Diminishing inequities, promoting diversity and maximising outcomes for all graduates.

4. Quality and Relevance of Programmes.
   4.1. Diversification and flexibility of curriculum, programmes, and courses.
   4.2. Expanding use of ICTs and AI to enhance learning and collaboration.
   4.3. Quality assurance of innovative higher learning modalities and spaces.
   4.5. Advancing learning skills for evolving workforce paths.

5. Academic Mobility in Higher Education.
   5.1. National and institutional policies and practices for widening access to students with different backgrounds.
   5.2. Institutions as lifelong learning communities for all.
   5.3. Teachers and researchers in an increasingly diverse campus.
   5.4. Building a global campus of learning, teaching and research.
   5.5. Acknowledging talents, skills, knowledge, and competences for diversity.
   5.6. Recognition of qualifications concerning higher education.

   6.1. System level governance in higher education.
   6.2. Higher education institutions governance and responsiveness to dynamic contexts.
   6.3. Participation, diversity, and pluralism in higher education.
   6.4. Institutional autonomy, organisational effectiveness, and accountability.
Draft: 14/11/2021

7. Financing Higher Education.
   7.1. Financial options for access, quality, equity and inclusion in higher education.
   7.2. Per-student investment in higher education.
   7.3. Optimising public investment in higher education: impact and accountability.
   7.4. Private sector investment in higher education.
   7.5. Cost-effectiveness in higher education.
   7.6. Developing/sustaining a global fund for higher education.

8. Data and Knowledge Production.
   8.1. Monitoring higher education in the framework of SDG4 and the 2030 Agenda.
   8.2. Towards global quality standards of data collection, processing and delivery.
   8.3. Machine learning, big data and data analysis in higher education.
   8.4. Use of information for policy decision making and organisational quality improvement.
   8.5. Mapping global quality, equity and inclusion.

   9.1. Articulating intergovernmental initiatives in favour of higher education.
   9.2. Collaboration strategies of international donors and sponsors in higher education.
   9.4. Links with open sciences and open learning movements.
   9.5. Networks, platforms and knowledge management for advancing international cooperation.
   9.6. Use of knowledge, technology, and innovation to promote collaboration.

10. The Futures of Higher Education.
    10.2. Critical risks and challenges for higher education beyond 2030.
    10.3. Long term trajectories in higher education for sustainable societies.
    10.4. Implications of disruptive change for educational, research, and civic missions.
    10.5. Epistemologies, research and knowledge for the common good.
    10.6. (Re)emerging institutions, models, governance and practices.

7 All TEG members and guests prepared background papers as UNESCO’s individual consultants.

8 Sylvia Schmelkes and Dag Olav Hessen jointly prepared a summary of the EGU2030 Report (see Annex 3).

9 In coordination to research and consultation on theme 5, professor Achim Hopbach has prepared a background paper on the OECD/UNESCO Guidelines for Quality Provision in Cross-Border Higher Education.
Annex 3. The EGU2030 initiative

With 2030 less than a decade away, it is paramount to think critically about the economic, social, and environmental transformations that are required to achieve the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. As key institutions in society and producers of knowledge, universities can contribute to achieving the SDGs. Under this perspective, not only SDG 4 on quality education is highlighted, but also the cross-cutting nature across all SDGs, and correspondingly the role of higher education institutions in achieving the 17 goals.

In partnership with the University of Bergen as a part of the National Committee for the 2030 Agenda in Norway’s University sector (SDG Norway), UNESCO has convened the Global Independent Expert Group (See Annex 4) on the Universities and the 2030 Agenda (EGU2030). The International Science Council (ISC) and the International Association of Universities (IAU) are also supporting partners of this initiative.

The EGU2030 has been tasked with proposing guidelines and reflections on the role of universities in contributing towards the achievement of the SDGs, in reflecting on knowledge development as well as new research and education strategies to generate the necessary transformations for the 2030 Agenda. The group is exploring the key role that universities can play, and identifying the challenges and barriers for doing so, looking both internally within institutions as well as in relation to society at large.

The EGU2030 will explore and address these themes through three focal lenses:

- The role of inter- and transdisciplinarity for curriculum development and research programs, emphasizing especially the relationship between the humanities and the social sciences on the one hand and the natural sciences on the other (“radical interdisciplinarity”).
- How to build on and promote knowledge that comprises a diverse range of traditions, institutions and epistemologies to promote a truly global knowledge-base for the SDGs.
- How to strengthen the role of universities as partners with private, public and civil society actors in the work with the SDGs.

The group is formed by 14 global experts from different disciplinary backgrounds. They have been meeting since October, 2020. The group’s report is expected by the end of 2021 and will be one of the key knowledge products at the WHEC2022, falling under the theme of Higher Education and the SDGs.
